WITH A WESTAFLEX
AIR TRANSFER KIT.

AIR TRANSFER KIT 1

This basic single point kit is suitable for transferring heat to a bedroom or similar sized room. The fan is a quiet centrifugal type.

As per all our kits, they are easy to install by a competent home handyman and only need a qualified electrician for mains connection. All our kits also have the ability to be extended where additional ducting lengths are required.

AIR TRANSFER KIT 2

The twin point kit is suitable for transferring heat to two rooms. Eg a bedroom and a bathroom. It is a centrifugal fan similar to that in kit 1.

Mains connection needs to be performed by a qualified electrician, other than that the home handyman can install the remainder of the kit.

AIR TRANSFER KIT 3

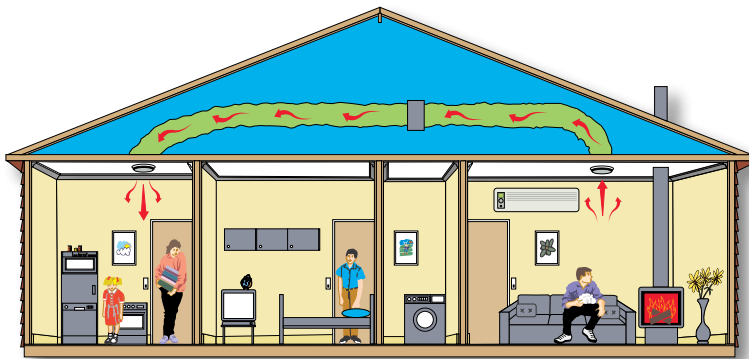

This is also a two point kit but has a more powerful fan for those larger rooms, ie two bedrooms or where you need to transfer the heat over a greater distance.

A qualified electrician needs to connect the kit to mains power, other than that the kit can be installed by a competent home handyman.

AIR TRANSFER KIT 4

This is our largest kit available. It is capable of transferring heat to three rooms. This could be bedrooms, study's bathrooms etc. As per the other kits a speed controller is optional.

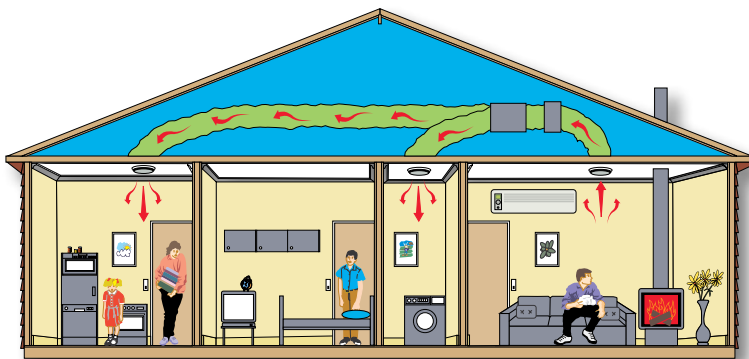

Also available is a zoning option this would allow you to heat each one by one as you require it (please refer to the poly connector brochure for details). This kit also requires a qualified electrician to connect it to mains power, other than that a competent home handyman can install it.

ACCESSORIES

There are numerous ways Air Transfer Kits can be used. Some situations can be straight forward while others may require further products to ensure that the right outcome is achieved for the individual customer requirements.

That's why we at westaflex have products available to tailor make your system.

We have different ducting, diffusion, branch connectors, tapes, controllers etc, so your system not only works but looks good.

Our products have been tested to all necessary Australian Standards and in some cases these products have even won Australian Design Awards or Australian Design Marks.

Westaflex is an Australian Family Owned Company that makes quality Australian made products and have been doing so since 1974.
